

Heut triumphieret Gottes Sohn

Musæ Sioniae VI/142
Walther's Hymnal 105

Michael Praetorius (1571–1621)
ed. Jonathan Wessler

1 Lo, with this morn - ing's dawn - ing ray, My Sav - ior rose to end - less day!
3 'Twas but three days, the bless - ed length My Sav - ior lay in Death's grim strength.
4 To - day I live through days of loss, En - dur - ing world - ly scorn and cross.
5 Soon shall I wake to heav - en's sun, Shall view the East - er Day be - gun.

Al - le - lu - ia, al - le - lu - ia! Past is sin's dark and drear - y reign; Life,
The third day dawned, He cracked the tomb, His Then comes my Sab - bath in the grave, And
A - ris - ing at my Sav - ior's voice, Death's light, and peace are ours a - gain!

vic - t'ry ban - ners pierced the gloom. Al - le - lu - ia, al - le - lu - ia!
peace and rest are mine to have.
name, a long - for - got - ten noise.

- 1 Lo, with this morning's dawning ray,
My Savior rose to endless day!
Alleluia, alleluia!
Past is sin's dark and dreary reign;
Life, light, and peace are ours again!
Alleluia, alleluia!
- 2 Though oft in night of great dismay
Enclosed as in death's tomb I lay.
Thou mak'st all soon Thy sun of grace
To rise, and joys the sadness chase.
- 3 'Twas but three days, the blessed length
My Savior lay in Death's grim strength.
The third day dawned, He cracked the tomb,
His vict'ry banners pierced the gloom.
- 4 Today I live through days of loss,
Enduring worldly scorn and cross.
Then comes my Sabbath in the grave,
And peace and rest are mine to have.
- 5 Soon shall I wake to heaven's sun,
Shall view the Easter Day begun.
Arising at my Savior's voice,
Death's name, a long-forgotten noise.
- 6 Upon the cross Christ freely gave
His life, the lives of all to save.
Since He hath Death's dark prison felled,
No man need more by Death be held.
- 7 Christ's kingdom is not of this world,
He craves not silk nor flag unfurled.
The humble, poor, and lowly here
Shall be His well-beloved peer.
- 8 Here cannot fully be explained
What He who conquered Death obtained.
What treasures from His tomb He brought,
What gifts with joy and blessing fraught.
- 9 The last great day alone will show
What to this wondrous act we owe.
How He hath bruised the serpent's head,
How Death by Him was stricken dead!
- 10 Then shall I see Christ's glorious state
With joy eternal, full, and great.
I shall behold all wicked foes
Hurled down to Hell's eternal woes.
- 11 The Lord hath stricken Death's demise,
Because He died and yet did rise.
With pow'r divine He scourges the tomb
Death, devil, hell must all succumb.
- 12 O stronger Thou than Death and hell,
Where is the foe Thou canst not quell?
What heavy stone Thou canst not roll
From off the prisoned, anguished soul?
- 13 No cross or grief can weigh too sore
To frustrate Christ my Savior's pow'r.
His hand delivers me from all;
Who stands against in shame will fall.
- 14 The Lord is risen now for you!
Yea, doubt it not, the word is true.
The angel witnesseth to this
The empty tomb, the wondrous bliss.
- 15 Christ liveth; where is room for fear?
His life, His love my spirit cheer.
What though all worlds should fade and die,
It is enough that He is nigh.
- 16 He feeds me, comforts, and defends,
And when I die His angel sends.
To bear me whither He is gone,
For of His own He loseth none.
- 17 He rose again and death withstood,
To grant me angel-brotherhood,
He did the Father's wrath allay,
All enmity is done away.
- 18 No more to fear or grief I bow,
God and the angels love me now;
The joys prepared for me today
Drive fear and mourning far away.
- 19 Strong Champion! for this comfort see
The whole world brings her thanks to Thee.
And once we too shall raise above
More sweet and loud the song we love!